

Hometown

Part 1:

1. What's the name of your hometown and where is it?

Answer: Vadodara is my hometown. It is a province located in the west of my country.

2. Is that a big city or a small place?

Answer: It is a tiny hometown of more than 22 lacs people.

3. Tell me about your hometown.

Answer: It is a diminutive city, like the one I grew up in. Many local festivals give it a feeling of continuity with the past, while the growing number of modern infrastructures and businesses in the city give it a sense of moving forward into the future.

4. How long have you been living there?

Answer: For as long as I can remember, I have lived there from my childhood.

5. Do you like your hometown? If yes, what do you like (most) about your hometown?

Answer: Indeed Yes, I am extremely proud of my hometown. The residents in my hometown are really welcoming, and I appreciate that. In addition, everyone was happy to offer a hand to those who asked for it.

6. Is there anything you dislike about it?

Answer: For what seems to be a pretty small town, I find the bustle of activity on the streets a little monotonous.

7. Do you often visit your hometown?

Answer: As I said formerly, I have been here since I was born.

Part 2:

Describe a tall building in your city you like or dislike

I am having the habit of roaming around the city with my bike in my leisure time.

When I was riding my bike on Old Mahabalipuram Road, I saw the beautiful building which made me stop and watch it.

Where it is? and What it is used for?

The building name is House of Hiranandani, which is situated in Old Mahabalipuram road at Egattur in South Chennai.

I googled about this place out of my curiosity and I found that this residential building contains 2100 apartments and there is even a school in this complex.

It just made me wonder and it is a fact that as a Chennai native, I found this beautiful complex only now.

What it looks like?

Simply, it has been a visual treat for me and it looks so magnificent.

It is said that the building's height is 528ft and its architecture style is Neoclassical.

The buildings are made with bricks, stone blocks, marble and you can find pillars in this complex.

The design of this building comprises geometric lines and order. It is a well-constructed and aesthetically pleasing building.

And explain why you like or dislike it?

First and foremost, I liked it because of its aestheticism.

It even inspired me creatively to create some new works.

And also, as a result of googling about this,

I learned several things about architecture structure and styles.

Part 3:

1. Why do people have a very strong bond with their hometown?

Answer: Human beings have a strong bond with the place where they grew up in. It is because we are familiar with the surroundings and people in our hometown. As we grow up we have created a lot of memories in that place which gives us nostalgic moments when we return to our hometown.

2. In what ways can you improve your hometown?

Answer: In my hometown, we lack a lot of facilities like roads and a proper drainage system. We can bring these drawbacks to the notice of the authorities or report the problems to concerned politicians. We can also bring up more public places so that people and children can spend some quality time there.

3. Some people want to live in their hometowns for the rest of their lives. Why?

Answer: Our hometown is a comfort zone where we have everyone at a close distance. When we leave our hometown we don't have anyone we know around us which leaves us in a lonely situation. Living in a faraway place can be difficult for some people. That's why they never leave their hometowns.

4. What is the main reason for liking a hometown other than the fact you were born there?

Answer: I like my hometown because it is beautiful with parks and lakes and hills. I have never seen such natural beauty anywhere else which makes me not want to leave the place. The people of my hometown are also very friendly which is the main reason why I like my place.
